Report of the Selectmen

For details of the Selectmen's accounts, also Road Department accounts, see itemized report of Town Treasurer.

TAX RATE

Your Town officers are sometimes asked why the tax rate has increased. This might be answered by saying that the voters who make the appropriations determine the tax rate, or that the rate has followed the general advance elsewhere and that it compares favorably with surrounding towns. Certain local factors, however, have influenced it. In 1921 we raised $10,000 and in 1922 $13,000 to pay off old indebtedness. We received no present benefit from it and the amounts should properly have been assessed in previous years and reflected in the tax rate of those years. So far as the future is concerned, we trust no further appropriation of any size will be needed for Town Debt.

The increased cost of maintaining the various departments has had its influence. Going back a dozen years, to 1910, the tax rate was $10.10; the School appropriation was $24,750. In 1922 it was $73,448. Even with above mentioned payments for debt, the tax rate had not advanced in the same proportion as this appropriation in a department generally conceded to be ably and carefully managed. In 1910 the Road appropriation was $7,500; in 1922 it was $32,500, of which $12,500 was for State Highway. The Town itself has made no great advance either in population or in taxable property since that time.

Although often repeated, many citizens do not understand the changes in our system of taxation which have so adversely affected our income. Some years ago personal property was taxed directly by the Town. If a town had wealthy residents, as Easton did, a substantial amount was received from this source; in fact, the bulk of our taxable property was in this class. In 1916 the law was changed and the State undertook to collect the intangible personal property tax, as an income tax, and to return the income to the town from which it was received. Still later, in 1918 and 1919, the law was again changed, against the earnest protest of towns like Easton, so that only a part of what our local citizens pay as income taxes comes back to us, it being now distributed on the basis of the State tax. The blow was somewhat softened by reducing our income ten per cent each year, so that by 1927 our estimated yearly loss will be about $30,000. The time has now come when we are feeling this loss of income keenly, and we will feel it more so in the future. In 1920 the State returned to us $42,408, in 1921 we received $37,427, in 1922 it had dropped to $31,873. This is the greatest cause for our increased taxes.

We have temporarily lost certain excise taxes of the Street Railway Company and the State taxes are higher ($8,345 in 1910—$12,000 in 1922), but the basic trouble is our reduced income tax return.

A certain amount must be raised to maintain the Town. As new buildings are constructed the burden will be proportionately lightened, but until some such movement appears, existing real estate will carry the load as evidenced in a higher tax rate than in former years.

ROAD DEPARTMENT

During the past year under the direction of Mr. Wilbur, our Superintendent, we have rebuilt Main Street from Dailey's Corner to the Brockton line, and have gravelled two miles in different parts of the Town. We have had unusual repairs on outside streets owing to the heavy traffic caused by detours. We have used over 100 barrels of tar and many tons of pea stone and dust for repairs on macadam roads. With the State we have constructed 1,900 feet of macadam road on Foundry Street and completed resurfacing left over from 1921 on the same. We intended to macadamize Center Street but felt it advisable to use the money for tar and sand in the North Easton district and postpone the resurfacing or rebuilding of Center Street until 1923. We have approximately 1200 tons of crushed stone on hand that can be used in the Spring when gravel is not available. We think the Department would be rendered more efficient if the Town purchased a truck and disposed of some of its horses. We believe that the new construction on Foundry Street should be continued. About one mile to the Mansfield line is yet to be constructed. We are reasonably sure of continued State aid on this work, and are trying to induce the County to assist.

Of the section of Washington Street between the Stoughton line and Dailey's Corner taken over as a State highway, about 1400 feet on the northerly end remains to be constructed, and work on this section will be resumed early in the Spring. The southerly section on Turnpike Street, with the exception of a top coat across the Hockamock, is completed. Wet weather, labor shortage and the railroad embargo were reasons given for the failure to entirely complete the above section in 1922. The cost of this work was over $183,000, towards which the Town contributed $12,500, or about one-fifteenth of the cost.

It is hoped that the balance of the road between Dailey's Corner and the southern end will be completed in 1923. For this work the Town will be asked to appropriate $12,500, and also to pass the usual vote to indemnify the Commonwealth against land, grade and drainage damages. The Commonwealth has suggested that the State highway should continue straight through on Washington Street from South Easton Green to the Eastondale Schoolhouse on Turnpike Street. This route is about 900 feet shorter, but is open to the serious objection of crossing the railroad at grade. The present Depot Street route has a sharp turn at Lothrop's Corner which may necessitate the taking of land, for which damage the Town is responsible, and the under-pass on the railroad may require attention. A substantial majority of the residents on Depot and Turnpike Streets are desirous of the existing route being continued. The position of all parties has been presented to the State Highway Commission by the Town officers, and the Commission have agreed to hear fully the views of the local residents before taking definite action.

We feel that Center Street should be rebuilt this year, and a certain portion of Lincoln Street should also receive attention.

With the State spending over $40,000 a mile to construct good roads, we should appreciate that our usual appropriation is not sufficient to do even the work that is badly needed. Our roads were originally built, much in advance of the uses to which they were then put. The coming of the automobile, especially the heavy trucks, has created a volume of traffic never anticipated. Much of our appropriation in past years was used in a vain effort to keep up Turnpike Street as a Town road, and the remaining roads had to be neglected. With the State Highway completed this year, we should look forward in 1924 to an increased appropriation for the gradual improvement of our Town roads.

Under the will of Oliver Ames, a trust fund of $50,000 was created for Town roads, under which the Trustees were directed to pay the income, not exceeding $4,000, to the Town, on the Town complying with certain conditions. The income of this fund considerably exceeds this amount and the heirs, who are the children and grandchildren of the late Frederick L. Ames, have indicated their willingness to turn the surplus income over to the Town Road Fund. Court proceedings, to which the Town is a party, are now pending, and it is hoped that favorable action will result. If so, the entire income, which Mr. Oliver Ames, the Treasurer of the fund, informs us last year exceeded $7,000, will be available for town roads.

We recommend that the Town raise and appropriate the sum of $25,000 for highways for 1923.

JOHN A. ANDERSON,
Selectmen of Easton.

Report of the Overseers of the Poor

In submitting our report, we wish to call attention to the fact that notwithstanding many new calls for assistance, we have tried to confine the assistance given to those whom we consider absolutely needy.

We are asked why more cases are not cared for at our Almshouse. Practically all of the aid cases have children, and the law requires that children between the ages of two and fourteen shall not be placed in almshouses but kept in families at the expense of the town, city, or State, according to settlement.

A mother with children under fourteen years of age may be placed on the Mothers' Aid list. The town in this instance pays two-thirds and the State one-third of the expense of the family. Where there is no settlement or where a family or individual cannot be domiciled on any city or town because of the period of residence, the full amount of aid given is repaid by the State.

We are asking the citizens of Easton for an appropriation for the Poor outside the Almshouse of $6,750, and also request that the receipts of the department be credited for its use.

For the Town Farm, we recommend that $2,500 be raised and appropriated, with the receipts of the farm also included.

The first quarter of the year the expense of the farm was so heavy that a change was considered advisable, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott, a former warden and matron, were prevailed upon to accept the management. Through their management we were able to end the year within the appropriation.

Many needed utensils have been added, such as harnesses, plows, tip cart, new beds and bed clothing for the inmates' rooms, etc. Mr. Scott has seeded about six acres to grass, and underdrained one field, using upwards of five hundred feet of drain pipe, all this adding to the productiveness of the farm.

The stock on hand January 1, 1923, consists of thirteen cows, three horses, one bull, two yearlings, two hogs, one hundred fowl, with hay enough on hand to carry through until next season.

At the present time there are four inmates. The property is in need of some repairs, and the buildings should be painted.

For an itemized statement of receipts and expenditures, see Treasurer's report.

Report of the Financial Transactions of the Town of Easton

For the Year Ending December 31, 1922

Report of Town Accountant

To the Citizens of Easton:

On the following pages are submitted a complete report of the receipts and expenditures of each department of the town for the year 1922, classified by accounts, showing the cost of operation of each branch of the Town government, also all income and the sources from which derived and the departments to which credited or applied.

Payment of bills in three departments was withheld, as the appropriation for these departments was completely exhausted. The bills of 1922 which were not paid and for which I would recommend separate appropriations are as follows: Charity Account, including Almshouse, $1,647.73; Selectmen's Department, Police and Incidentals, $947.66; Board of Health, $40.30. As recommended last year, this will give the incoming officials in these departments a better footing for the coming year.

Observation of figures in the Tax Collector's report will show $24,637.96 as uncollected for the year 1922. This, no doubt, will appear to be a large amount of uncollected bills, but when consideration is given to the fact that the total to be collected was $146,831.08 and the books were not in the Collector's hands until October 20, and the bills were not and could not be rendered until after November 10, the sum collected, $120,171.95 to December 31, 1922, was exceedingly good.

I will again recommend that the books of the Tax Collector be in his hands at an earlier date, September 1 at the latest.

I again call attention to overlays on the general tax assessment. This year it amounted to $1,003.61, a figure much too low. During the year 1922, abatements were allowed amounting to $3,865.83, an amount much larger than the overlay. In order to reduce town liabilities, excessive bills and items like this must be reduced.

Last year I showed notes outstanding December 31, 1920, and 1921. At this time the figures for the year 1922 are shown.

Notes outstanding December 31, 1922, $50,000.

Cash on hand and in Bank, Dec. 31, 1922	$40,243.00
Uncollected taxes, Dec. 31, 1922	28,846.22
		$69,089.22

Of this balance, $5,000 is due the various districts on uncollected taxes, leaving a balance for the payment of outstanding notes of $64,089.22. These figures will show that the town has no indebtedness, with exception of new notes taken out in 1923 to defray expenses until taxes are collected in the fall.

CHARLES H. LUFKIN,
Town Accountant.

Report of the Tree Warden

To the Citizens of the Town of Easton:

The Tree Warden submits the following report of work of the Department for the year 1922.

Nine rock maple trees were planted early in the spring. One request for planting which came in late was laid over until 1923. This was for a tree on Columbus Avenue and it would seem desirable to then continue the line already there to the end of the avenue extension.

Ten trees were removed by the Department or permission given to remove; also two dead trees.

The large elm tree at the Waterfall on Main Street was also removed, it having become dangerous to traffic and wires.

Much work was necessary through the Furnace and Bay Road section, owing to the breaking of limbs by truck traffic, caused by the detour.

These trees were arched to State Highway rule of fourteen foot clearance, and even then many limbs were broken.

Dead wood was removed from the trees on nearly all streets.

Spraying was in connection with the Moth Department work.

In two locations the elm leaf beetle again appeared in numbers, and it will be necessary to spray for the beetle the coming year.

While the two large sprayers carried the work through the last season with some few breaks, it is hardly to be expected that they will last out another year, and I believe it to be advisable to purchase a large machine with truck this year, rather than to chance a delay of the work through the short season.

For a detailed account of expenses see Treasurer's report.

I recommend that the town raise and appropriate $1500 for work of the Department in 1923, and $2500 for the purchase of a sprayer.

Report of Superintendent of Moth Work

To the Selectmen of the Town of Easton:

I submit the following report of the work of the Moth Department for the year 1922.

With one exception very satisfactory results were obtained this year from both the cresote and spray work. This one exception was the Gymnasium Woods on Barrows Street. A new milk spreader was used in the spray applied here, at request of the State Department, and results were anything but satisfactory.

A light infestation has resulted in this locality. Other residential sections of the town show much improvement over the previous year.

I wish to call attention to the beetle parasite, a large, bronze colored beetle, which is now very common throughout the town, and request that no one destroy it. This beetle with its larva, and several of the other parasites, especially the Anastatus, or egg parasite, and the wilt disease, are becoming established, and results are showing from them in many of the woodland colonies.

No return of the Brown Tail Moth has as yet been noted, although a light infestation is found in some of the nearby towns.

Such supplies as lead, oil and hose, were received from the State, also cash reimbursement of $971.08.

For detailed report of expenditures see Treasurer's report.

I recommend that the town raise and appropriate the sum of the town Moth liability, $1,886.68, for work of the Department in 1923.

Report of the Board of Health

To the citizens of Easton:

We have been remarkably free from contagious and infectious diseases in Easton during the year 1922. There were reported to the board but forty-six cases, as follows: Scarlet Fever, thirteen; Diphtheria, nine; Chicken Pox, five; Measles, three; German Measles, one; Mumps, two; Whooping Cough, one; Pulmonary Tuberculosis, three; Tuberculosis of Bones, one; Lobar Pneumonia, three; Influenza, two; Septic Sore Throat, one; Discharge from Eye (Infant) one; Trachoma, one.

The number of cases reported this year was eighty-nine less than in 1921, and one hundred seventy-nine less than in 1920.

There were but eight deaths in Easton in 1922 in which reportable diseases were the principal or contributing cause. They were as follows: Tuberculosis, four; Lobar Pneumonia, two; Influenza, two. In 1921 there were thirteen deaths from reportable diseases, and fifteen in 1920.

The whole number of deaths for the year was seventy-nine, and the number of births eighty-seven, not including six still-births. This gave us a birth rate of 17.5 and a death rate of 15.8 per thousand.

During the year we have cared for five cases of Tuberculosis. Three of these have been patients in the Bristol County Tuberculosis Hospital, and two have been aided in their homes. The total expense on account of Tuberculosis was $1292.89. Of this amount, $852.80 was expended for hospital care. The Town has been reimbursed by one patient for the total amount paid on his account, being $141.70, and we have charges for subsidy against the Commonwealth for two other patients amounting to $391.60. At the close of the year we had one patient in the Bristol County Tuberculosis Hospital, and were still aiding two in their homes.

We had one case of Diphtheria, for which we furnished hospital care at an expense of $100.00.

Licenses have been issued by the Board and were in force during the year 1922, as follows: ninety-four licenses to produce and sell milk, one to manufacture non-alcoholic beverages, two to sell wood or denatured alcohol, two slaughtering licenses, five licenses to practise manicuring and massage, one undertaker's license. Seventy-one burial permits have been issued, and the Inspector of Milk has issued seven licenses to sell oleomargarine.

The inspection of milk shows that the milk produced and sold in town is, on the whole, clean and of good quality.

The usual sanitary inspection of the town was made with the result that with very few exceptions, conditions in town are satisfactory.

The Board expended during the year the sum of $2,438.06, being $8.05 less than its receipts.

We append the report of the Inspector of Slaughtering.

Report of Finance Committee

February 12, 1923.

To the Citizens of Easton, Mass.:

In considering the proper recommendations for 1923, your committee has given due consideration to the fact that the departments of the Town, to be handled with efficiency, must have the coöperation of its Finance Committee, as well as all its voters, to the end that no department will be handicapped by lack of necessary funds. To no less degree, however, have we attempted to avoid adding to the already heavy burden of taxation.

The Finance Committee has been accorded every consideration by the Town officials in its investigations.

We render the following report, endeavoring, in addition to recommendations for the current year, to submit a brief review of the comparative financial condition of the town, at the close of the several years beginning with 1917.

This table is offered for the reason that during these years, previous to 1921, an indebtedness had accrued, the exact amount of which, as well as the respective years in which this took place, has not heretofore been published.

During the year 1922 the last installment of this indebtedness has been provided for, the amount of cash on hand and unpaid taxes exceeding outstanding notes by $14,686.72, as shown in the table below.

	Cash and Unpaid Taxes	Outstanding Notes	Net Deficit	Net Surplus	Increase in Deficit	Decrease in Deficit
December 31, 1917	$10,960.80	$5,000.00		$5,960.80
December 31, 1918	11,219.66	35,000.00	$23,780.34		$29,741.14
December 31, 1919	16,222.02	25,000.00	8,777.98			15,002.36
December 31, 1920	25,398.19	40,000.00	14,601.81		5,823.83
December 31, 1921	41,190.57	50,000.00	8,809.43			5,792.38
December 31, 1922	64,680.72	50,000.00		14,686.72		23,496.15

TAXATION

The Assessors' Department should show improvement if it is to become efficient.

Tax bills were issued at a very late date, due to the fact that your Collector received the tax figures from the Assessors weeks after he should have had them. That this has retarded the payment of taxes to a considerable extent is not denied. Evidence that the Town is suffering from a low and unequal valuation appears to be conclusive.

These conditions are directly associated with our custom of placing the members of the Board of Assessors on other boards as well, our contention being that Assessors, with the cares of other branches of Town government calling for attention, have invariably failed to show as good results in either branch as would otherwise be the case.

Therefore your Committee recommends the personnel of this department be separated from all others.

ACCOUNTING

The Finance Committee recommends the rejection of the referendum placed on the ballot under Section 1, Chapter 516, Acts of 1922 (Shall the Town petition for the installation of an accounting system by the Commonwealth?).

POOR DEPARTMENT

This department shows effects of officials holding too many offices, the Town having been penalized during the past year for tardiness in filing reports, and in some instances lack of thorough investigation has resulted in unnecessary expense.

Regardless of the fact that the Town has enacted by-laws forbidding the sale of goods to a Town department, by an official of the Town, except under certain conditions, violations are a common occurrence, in fact no competitors of one town official have made a sale to the general Charity Department during the year.

Your Committee recommends that the Town Counsel take appropriate action to enforce the by-laws, if this practice is continued.

ROAD DEPARTMENT

The purchase of a truck by this department is recommended.

Last year this Committee recommended the building of part of the State road from Stoughton line to Raynham line, under favorable terms obtained from the County, State, and Federal Government. We now recommend the appropriation of funds to complete this project under similar terms. Last year the Town furnished but about one-fifteenth of the cost. In view of the fact that this appropriation is a rather heavy burden, even if at a good bargain, we feel that it is inexpedient to add a special appropriation for the continuation of the Furnace road work until another year.

SCHOOLS

While it is evident that schools in all localities are costing more than should be the case, it is impossible for one town to bring about a change, as it is necessary to meet competition of other towns in the matter of salaries and conditions.

Annual Report of the School Committee

To the Citizens of Easton:

Public interest has been especially solicited by the schools of Easton during the year 1921-1922. The Education Week recently observed brought many visitors to the schools and all were fortunate indeed who heard Dr. Payson Smith. The annual convention of the National Education Association was held in Boston in July. This gave many of our teachers opportunity to attend the sessions. Again attention was drawn to educational matters. The local Health Exhibit, which came in June, was an effort to give to the school children an impetus toward healthful living, and to the townspeople an insight into health teaching in the schools.

The legislation of the past year concerning schools is notable in two fields: Physical Education has been made compulsory and the Continuation School Law requires the payment of tuition.

"Such schools.....shall give instructions and training in..... indoor and outdoor games and athletic exercise."

"The town of residence of a person who is required by section 22 to attend a continuation school of another town shall pay to such other towns a tuition fee..."

Besides these requirements the Committee has asked for but one new item in the 1923 budget, the reappointment of a music supervisor. Two years ago, under pressure of the strictest economy, both the music and drawing supervisors were dropped. It is unwise to allow instruction in these departments to continue too long without supervision.

On page 12 will be found a list giving some of the more important items of maintenance and outlay for the past year. In addition to these it was necessary to put a new heating plant into the South Easton School. It is a steam boiler and boiler room with combined direct and indirect heating apparatus. This plant has been installed and guaranteed for a year at a cost of $2,600, but it necessitated economies to provide for it within the budget. Many of the repairs thus omitted will be found in the suggested list for 1923 on page 13. The school at the Furnace has long been the only one without a well. The heating system has required a great deal of water to be carried from a neighboring house. It was considered feasible to drill this much needed well at the present time (January 1923) because a reduced rate could be secured on account of work done on a well in the vicinity.

In the care of buildings it is well to consider the accumulated expense of repeated small repairs and to balance this against a perhaps large initial outlay but an economy in the end. Such a problem is the upkeep of the Junior High School. The Committee wishes to look forward to a new roof for this building. This will remove the unsafe and expensive tower.

Mr. Wheeler has prepared an instructive study of the taxes of Easton from 1920 to 1923. He found that the per cent of school expenditures of the total town and district expenditures has decreased each year: 1920, 41 per cent; 1921, 38.3 per cent; 1922, 36.8 per cent. It was also determined that while the tax for all purposes has increased appreciably, the school tax has remained practically constant for the past three years. Therefore it is certain that the increased rate of taxation is not in any way caused by the schools.

The evening school this year is being conducted in South Easton rather than in North Easton as formerly. The larger group of people requiring this school was in South Easton. Those in North Easton desiring to attend were offered help in transportation.

The Susan E. French Scholarship became available for another student in September 1922. The Committee awarded it to Joseph P. Flemming, whose record seemed in every way to indicate that he would use the opportunity for further study wisely. Mr. Flemming entered Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

When those interested in a school system have endeavored in every way to have that system stand for work of a high grade it is gratifying to have proofs that the endeavor has not been in vain. The New England College Entrance Certificate Board has granted the certificate privilege to the Oliver Ames High School for the second period of three years, 1922-25. The renewed privilege is due to the good work done in college by our graduates since 1919, which in turn was made possible by our High School organization. The representative of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, after examining our school last year, also continued us upon the list of schools privileged to certify students to that institution. The High School is still rated in Class "A" for certification to the State Normal Schools. This year three of our graduates are receiving college scholarships, one at Boston University, one at Brown University, and one at Harvard. These are awarded for excellence in college work.

Mr. Edward M. Carr's second term of office ended in 1922. During the six years he gave careful and thorough consideration to the matters before us, and his experience and knowledge were greatly valued in reaching decisions.

The Committee feels a great loss in the death of Mr. Chaffin. In a former report a record was given of his splendid service to the schools of Easton. He served actively as a member of the school board for twenty-eight years, and all feel that his interest in educational work never lessened throughout his life.

We wish to express our appreciation of the interest taken by many in the schools this past year. We hope that many more will visit during nineteen twenty-three. In this way the parents will know more fully the problems and difficulties in school administration. Any committee can render better service to an understanding public.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the School Committee of Easton:

Madam and Gentlemen,—It is with pleasure that I submit my fifth annual report, which is the thirty-seventh from the office of the Superintendent of Schools.

The facts below indicate some of our activities for the past year:

Number of visits to ten outside schools	164
Number of visits to buildings	27
Number of classroom visits, North Easton Grammar	28
Number of classroom visits, Junior High	29
Number of classroom visits, High School	20
Total number visits not including conferences with principals	268
Number of teachers' meetings	15
Number of conferences with teachers' committees	16
Number of School Committee meetings	16
Number new teachers selected	13
Terman's Mental Ability test, grades 8 to 12.
Burgess' Silent Reading examination, grades 6 to 8.
Monroe's Silent Reading examination, grades 3 to 8.
Monroe's Arithmetic examination, grades 3 to 8.
Illinois Intelligence test, grades 3 to 8.
Seven subject-matter tests, grades 9 to 12.
Prognostic test in French, grade 8.

PROGRESS OF A DECADE

Retardation.

1. In Easton and in ten other towns at present.
2. In Easton now and ten years ago.

If a pupil is 8 years old or over and is in the first grade he is retarded, if he is 9 years old and is in the second grade he is likewise retarded, and so on through the grades.

A study of the age and grade tables of ten representative towns of about the same school population as Easton reveals the fact that we are in the third group, or the group with the least retardation or number of over-age pupils.

COMPARISON OF 1912 AND 1922

	Total No. Teachers	No. Pupils	No. Over- Age Pupils	Per Cent Over-Age	No. High Pupils	No. High Teachers
1912	41*	1034	387	37.4	168	9
1922	41	1183	164	13.9	240	10
Difference	-3	+149	-223	-23.5	+72	+1

* Also three special teachers.

In ten years the total number of pupils has increased 149, seventy-two or one-half of which are in the high school. The number of over-age pupils has decreased 223, although the total number of pupils is larger. The per cent of over-age pupils has been reduced from 37.4 to 13.9, or by a number equal to about one-fourth of the total enrollment. This is evidence of a remarkable progress, especially since the total number of teachers is less and the number in the high school only one more.

PROFESSIONAL IMPROVEMENT OF TEACHERS

In our report of a year ago we called attention to the excellent beginning that had been made by our teachers in professional improvement. The course in Applied Educational Psychology of ten lessons referred to in last year's report materialized, and twenty teachers completed the course given under the direction of the State University Extension Department by Dr. Thomas Hopkins of Harvard University. Seven of the teachers took and passed the supervised examination for advanced credits.

At the general teachers' meeting in January, Dr. Walter Fernald of the Waverley School gave an illustrated talk on the mental characteristics of children.

The State Supervisor of Industrial Schools visited our shop department and assisted us with many valuable suggestions.

The Principal and five high school teachers were in attendance at Summer Schools last summer. At the general teachers' meeting in September each of these teachers gave a report on the high spots of the session attended.

Miss Mary O'Connell was delegated by the school committee to attend the summer conference at Hyannis on Physical Education.

Thirty-three teachers have signified their desire to take another course with the University Extension Department under Dr. George Mirick of Harvard University, beginning in March.

The above record is very commendable, but for the benefit of our schools and as an aid to teachers who desire to attend a short summer course I would like to recommend a bonus of fifty dollars to any teacher who avails himself or herself of the many privileges in this vicinity, and who returns to Easton to teach during the following year.

HEALTH EDUCATION

The annual inspection has been made of all pupils by the school physician assisted by the school nurse, and the follow-up work has accomplished good results as usual. The emphasis placed upon health education by the exhibit and the sessions continuing for two days last June has placed our school health work on a much firmer basis. Now we understand better what it is all about.

	No. Pupils	No. Defective Teeth	Enlarged Tonsils or Adenoids	Pedicu- losis	Sight	Hearing	Skin Diseases
September 1920	1112	662	102	65	45	14	17
September 1922	1175	242	51	14	73	9	9
Decrease in two years		420	51	51	28*	5	8
Corrected September to December 1922		35	8	14	29	0	7
Defective December 1922		207	43	0	44	9	2

*Increase

There are evidently 207 pupils with defective teeth who need the services of a dentist. Last May the number was reduced to 181. The problem of clean mouths is always with us, and a continuous effort must be made to meet and overcome the forces of decay.

The Remedial Health Work in general has been very successful because of the excellent coöperation of all concerned. The same is true of the control of contagious diseases of which we have had very few cases thus far this year.

We regret that Miss May Lipsett has resigned her position as school nurse. Because of her persistent efforts in behalf of the children, we are able to report the accomplishments noted above.

We hope to be able to extend the work of this department next year to more fully meet the demands of the State Departments of Health and Education. A chest examination, including a thorough examination of the heart and lungs, is required. There are many reasons why the presence of one parent is desirable at the time of the annual examination, and hereafter we shall invite the parent to be present.

The Health Exhibit emphasized very strongly and clearly the fact that animals and children alike need to be well nourished by plenty of milk while they are young. If milk is deprived them, they are usually stunted and become an easier prey for all diseases. The Massachusetts Tuberculosis League states that of children ten per cent or more under weight one-third are tubercular, and suggests that all children more than seven per cent under weight be followed up as to their diet, but more especially as to the amount of milk they have daily.

We anticipate that parents will understand the motive of the School Nurse as she carries on this work, and will be glad to coöperate in every way possible to make their own children, and our town's children healthier and happier.

The local Nursing Association used the $120.94 received from the sale of Christmas Seals in 1921, for school children as follows:

Paid 5 operations, tonsils and adenoids in full	}	$78.00
Paid 5 operations, tonsils and adenoids in part
Paid 11 dental bills in full		28.00
Paid 15 dental bills in part		17.00
Total		$123.00

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

A Junior High School is an organization that aims:

1. To correct the faults of the old eight grade system by striving to better fit for work those pupils who must leave school early.
2. To more genuinely interest pupils who are at the period of early adolescence doubting the value of schools.
3. To bridge the gap between the elementary grades and the high school.
4. To better care for pupils during the early adolescent period.
5. To give differentiated courses to meet individual differences.
6. To help prevent retardation by its plan of promotion by subjects.

In September 1916, the Junior High School of Easton became an important unit in our school system, closely related to the six year elementary grades on one side and articulating with the Senior High School on the other.

It has grown from a four room organization with three home room teachers to a six room organization with six home room teachers. There has been a complete revision of courses in English, History, Geography, Mathematics, General Science, Oral and Silent Reading, Penmanship, Drawing and Spelling, aiming to make these courses as practical as possible.

That it has been successful in keeping boys and girls in school longer is proved by the increased number in the high school.

SPECIAL INTERESTING FEATURES OF THE PAST YEAR

1. General assemblies for Junior High School have been inaugurated. Room 1 of the high school building has been used for these bi-weekly meetings; the principal of the High School coöperating to make this possible by sending high school classes to the Junior High building during these periods.

As many Junior High pupils as possible have been encouraged to take part at these assemblies. The programs have included class exercises, lantern slides explanatory of class work, dramatization, vocal and instrumental music, and speakers from outside to interest the pupils in special topics.

2. Simple form of student government demonstrated especially at recess time.

3. 8A class had an organization for civic purposes, its model being town form of government.

4. This same class had for its penmanship lessons practical demonstration of business forms, letters, bills, etc.

5. Our science classes have tested and refilled the fire extinguishers, visited the plant of the Producers' Dairy Company, visited the Easton Water Plant, tested gum and candy for artificial colorings, tested to detect food adulterations and studied food values in connection with their course in General Science.

6. Play of the Marionettes produced during the Health Week by Junior High pupils in Ames Memorial Hall.

7. Our Mathematics classes have held class periods out of doors for the purpose of motivating their school work. Problems are discussed and data obtained which make the class room work more definite and practical.

8. Every pupil has two lessons a week in physical education.

Where there are two classes of one grade we have tried to group the pupils according to ability, using as our guide the quality of work done by a pupil, his application, and the intelligence tests and ratings of his previous teachers. This is one means we employ to reach individual requirements and give all pupils as much new and varied work as they can handle.

Our aim is for nothing spectacular. We wish to train boys and girls to have a desire for honest labor, a respect for authority and for other people's property. We wish, also, to develop a sense of responsibility, team work, and coöperation, loyalty to one another, and civic pride.

At present Junior High pupils eat their lunches at their own desks, standing in the cloak rooms, in the boiler room and in the school yard.

Two recommendations for future consideration are:

1. Adjustable desks and chairs for all pupils.

2. A lunch counter or room adapted for lunches.

DRAWING

Our aim in teaching drawing is to develop in the child an ability to express his thoughts in one of the simplest possible ways, to increase his powers of observation, to cultivate in him an understanding and appreciation of the beautiful and artistic, to develop his sense of harmony, and to stimulate his original ideas.

Our Junior High course includes pencil sketching and painting of flowers, fruits, and vegetables; the making of designs; the study of color harmony; the developing of typical heads, such as that of a Puritan, Indian, Dutch girl, etc., from a pattern made in class; the sketching of human figures in pencil and color; the study of perspective; the construction of type houses, ending in the making of a model of the pupil's own home; practice in lettering of the simpler styles; and the making of posters, using this knowledge of lettering. The designing of an attractive and artistic poster offers the child an excellent opportunity to exercise his originality. In addition we have worked out Thanksgiving and Christmas projects, appropriate place cards, nut cups, handkerchief cases, Christmas cards and tags.

I think the work of the pupils, not only of the Junior High School, but of all the schools of the town, in the making of posters deserves especial notice. Besides the advertising and slogan posters made for the Town Health Campaign last spring, some excellent posters were made for Education Week by two groups of Junior High pupils. These posters were of two kinds, one emphasizing and illustrating various phases of education, the other, notices which were distributed about the town calling attention to the special community observance in Ames Memorial Hall. Several of the posters made for the local Health Exhibit were selected and later exhibited by the State Department of Health at the National Education Association Convention in Boston.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. It may seem feasible to do without the services of a drawing Supervisor, but the time is coming when the outlines which are now in use must be revised or replaced. This work should be done by a person who knows what the schools need.
2. An opportunity should be given for the further study of Drawing to all High School students who desire it. Drawing is especially important in the working out of Industrial Arts projects. Students who are taking the Normal School course should continue their study of Drawing in High School.

MUSIC

During the past two years the music in the schools has been developed entirely by the teachers of the various grades. When pupils enter Junior High School, progress is curtailed because of their varied degrees of musical knowledge and ability. This difficulty could be greatly overcome if there were a Music Supervisor. The High School, also, feels keenly the lack of a Music Supervisor to train in chorus singing and to train and direct the High School Orchestra.

The students of Junior High School have made reviews of many of the great composers' and artists' lives, and collected materials for a music scrap book in which short biographies and pictures of these composers and artists appear.

A portion of several of the General Assembly periods has been devoted to community singing by the entire Junior High School. The pupils with natural musical ability have been encouraged in the development of their talents by rendering selections for the enjoyment of the other students.

About one-eighth of the time allotted for music is spent in the appreciation of the best known works of the great composers.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical education is again receiving more attention. Miss O'Connell and the members of her committee are giving much valuable assistance to the teachers in grades one to eight.

Through the generous coöperation of the Legion Post the North Easton Schools have been able to use the gymnasium for Physical Education purposes.

SHOP

The Shop Department pursues the study of woodworking on the manual training basis in the sixth and seventh grades, but the pupil on entering the eighth grade begins the pre-vocational training, whereby he obtains a better and broader knowledge of woodworking, including the more simple methods of construction, lathe turning, cabinet work, repairing, and also laying out of shop drawing for his own projects which he is to build. By this method of training, he receives a general knowledge of the use of tools, of some machinery and shop drawings, and an opportunity to help himself decide upon his future vocation.

If the boy should be mechanically inclined and decide to follow the shop course, he would at the completion of the course have a very good general knowledge of the woodworking trade as it is applied in the regular shop to cabinet making, lathe turning, and bench work.

For the past two and one-half years this department has done a large part of the minor school repairs for both the High, and Junior High School buildings, such as desks, covers, seats, and chairs. We have also constructed an oak bookcase for the library, window ventilators, bulletin boards, first aid cabinets, teachers' desks, and a bicycle shed.

The pupils have made numerous projects which they have purchased for home use, and many articles of furniture for outside parties, such as library tables, floor lamps, Morris chairs, medicine cabinets, and music cabinets. These articles, whether for the use of the pupils or for other persons, are sold for the cost of the material only, as we make no charge for labor.

The money received for these articles is used to help support the shop department and has proved to be a material help. In the month of June, last, this department exhibited the projects made by the pupils in one of the store windows in the town, and we received many favorable comments on the workmanship.

I think this department has manifested a saving to the town in the way of minor repair work during the past two and one-half years, and there is, in the shop at the present time, under construction, twelve small flat-top desks. This item alone will effect a saving to the Town of about three hundred dollars.

The new electrically driven four-inch planer and jointer, and the two large working benches with the new vises will enable us to do our work more efficiently. Further needs of the department are:

- a. More floor space.
- b. More outside light.
- c. Addition of two wood-turning lathes.
- d. Double arbor, power saw.
- e. Power band saw.
- f. Better locker equipment.

AGRICULTURE

Since February 1, 1922, the Agriculture Department has received only half the time of the instructor, the other part being devoted to the teaching of General Science in the Junior High School. This necessitated dropping all garden work with the younger children except the State Club work. The following outline shows very briefly what we have been able to accomplish on "half time."

I. Agricultural class work.

(A) Enrollment:

1. Average for year ending September 1, 1922, was 9.81 pupils.
2. Present class has 11 pupils. State allows maximum of 20 pupils in full time department, therefore our number would seem satisfactory for a "half time" department.

(B) Agricultural work carried on by pupils:

1. Projects, poultry and crops.
Projects completed, poultry 6, garden 7.
Total value of products, $1,311.99.
Total cost of production including boys' labor, $1,121.88.

2. Other supervised Agricultural work, 4,268½ hours for credit and cash, $863.90.

(C) Distribution of those leaving class during year:

One continues in High School.

Two engaged in Agricultural work.

Two engaged in other occupations.

- (D) Number of visits to projects by instructor for supervision and teaching, 131.

II. State Club work:

(A) Number enrolled, 16.

(B) Number completing work, 12.

(C) Prizes won:

1. Bristol County Garden Contest for 1922, 1st and 3d prizes.

Alfred Tufts won the first prize for the best garden in Bristol County of any boy or girl enrolled in State Club work.

The first prize is a week's camp at the Massachusetts Agricultural College next summer with all expenses paid. The third prize winner, Ethel Cruickshank, will receive an appropriate book.

The club work is carried on in coöperation with Mr. E. R. Wyeth, the County Club Leader.

2. Garden products.

(a) At Boston Horticultural Society exhibition from childrens' gardens:

Carrots, 1st and 4th prizes.

Potatoes, 4th prize.

Beets, 5th prize.

Onions, 8th prize.

- (b) At Bristol County Farmers' Show at Segregnaset:

Collection of vegetables, 3d and 4th prizes.

Parsnips, 1st prize.

Carrots, 1st prize.

Beets, 2d and 4th prizes.

Cabbage, 4th prize.

Potatoes, 4th prize.

3. Poultry.

- (a) Bristol County Farmers' Show:

Pen of White Rocks, 2d prize.

Pen of Anconas, 2d prize.

Pen of Anconas, 3d prize.

Ancona Pullet, 1st prize.

Plate of eggs, 3d prize.

III. Milk testing for Board of Health.

17 collections made, 106 samples tested.

OLIVER AMES HIGH SCHOOL

GRADUATING CLASS OF 1922

The class of 1922 in conjunction with the class of 1920 holds the distinction of being the largest class ever graduated from the High School. Both classes had 43 members. Eleven members of the class, or over 25 per cent are continuing their education in higher institutions of learning. One member is in the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, two are in Brown University, one in Simmons College, two in the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance, two in Boston University, one in Boston Normal Art School, and one in the Bridgewater Normal School.

STANDING AND WORK OF THE HIGH SCHOOL

The high standing of the Oliver Ames High School has been shown by the report of the work done in colleges and normal schools by graduates which was printed in last year's school report.

The School Committee's report of this year further explains the standing of the school as determined by the certificating privileges allowed the school by higher bodies of learning.

During the latter part of last year, in an attempt to compare the work of the High School with schools elsewhere, standard subject-matter tests were given in seven subjects: Physics, Geometry, Algebra, French, Latin, Shop Arithmetic, and Technical Information. In all except two of these the classes were normal or above. These results were very satisfactory.

The Commercial Department has held before it as its ideal the close correlation of classroom instruction with actual business. This has been accomplished by giving the pupils as a part of their training actual work to be done for the school and the Town.

Members of the Senior shorthand class have acted as stenographers for the principal and members of the faculty, writing letters and reports.

The pupils of the Junior typewriting class have done straight typewriting, hektograph and mimeograph work covering a wide range of subjects such as: forms for use in the High School, special committee reports, programs of plays and constitutions of clubs. Work has been done for the superintendent, the principals of the High and Junior High Schools and the teachers as well as local clubs and churches.

In order that the business training of the student may be as broad as possible, a course in economics and one under the general title of business are given. It is the purpose of the business course to give the pupil a conception of the larger aspect of business, an intelligent understanding of the various departments of any business organization, and an appreciation of the part which he is later to play in that organization.

Special interest has been stimulated in typewriting through the awards offered by the typewriter companies to those who pass the monthly tests issued by them. Two members of the Senior Class have received bronze medals from the Underwood Typewriter Company for writing at a net speed of 40 words a minute, while four Seniors have secured certificates for writing 30 words. The results of the December tests show that one more Senior and two Juniors will receive certificates. These awards are concrete symbols of excellence in typewriting which the pupils strive to earn and are proud to own.

ATHLETICS

The boys' and girls' basketball teams last year were among the best in the history of the High School. The Boys' team lost very few games. The Girls' team was not defeated during the season, and won the championship of southeastern Massachusetts. This year it has been necessary to rebuild both teams. This has been done with considerable success. Emphasis has been laid on the right kind of physical development, team play, and good sportsmanship. Such athletics are of great benefit to all who participate in them. However, it is to be regretted that the present system of athletics cannot reach the majority of the pupils. Physical training should be placed in the regular high school program.

SPECIAL HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

February 17, 1922, the Senior Class presented the three-act play, "And Home Came Ted." The play was successfully repeated one week later for the benefit of the High School Athletic Association.

Six one-act plays have been staged during the past year by various groups and classes.

Numerous class debates and speaking contests have been held.

Last year's Senior Class took a most enjoyable and profitable trip to Provincetown.

The Senior Class of this year on January 10 went to Boston to a performance of Shakespeare's "Macbeth."

Debating teams are at present preparing for debates with teams from three different schools.

There has been special observance of No-Accident Week, Education Week, Election and Armistice Days, and Memorial Day.

PRESENT HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

The present enrollment of 240 is the largest the High School has ever had. It shows that boys and girls and their parents are realizing the value of a high school education as a part of the equipment for life. In the face of this demand it would seem to be the duty of the Town to continue to make every effort to provide suitable education for its future citizens.

EXHIBIT OF THE EASTON SCHOOLS AT THE NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION CONVENTION

Last June our schools exhibited some of the results of the school work in Easton. These results were presented on twenty-nine large charts. It is impossible to reproduce all these results here, but it is hoped that the following summary may make clear the main points.

The first or introductory chart reads as follows:

Five Committees of teachers consisting of three members each, with one member from each department, Elementary, Junior High and Senior High have been studying, suggesting, coördinating and reporting for two years on work accomplished in the entire school system irrespective of grades, courses of study, departments or curricula.

The aim has been to lead pupils to improve continuously in the big fundamental elements for which the schools primarily exist.

Then appeared the following names of the committees with a group photograph of each:

Silent Reading and Vocabulary, Oral Reading and Declamation, Mathematics, Penmanship and Intelligence Testing.

Each committee presented its policies and results in definite form. The reports were supplemented with numerous pictures and graphs.

SILENT READING COMMITTEE

The Silent Reading Committee stressed the aims in silent reading and the improvement made in Easton.

ORAL ENGLISH AND DECLAMATION

The Committee on Oral English and Declamation featured the needs and purposes of much oral English. They illustrated their charts by many pictures of the children of Easton in action.

Some of their main points are:

"We speak One Hundred Words to Every One we Write."

Why train pupils in Oral English?

1. To improve pupils' appearance in recitation.
2. To increase pupils' ease in recitation.
3. To increase pupils' ability to think rapidly and clearly.
4. To improve pupils' enunciation.
5. To increase pupils' natural enjoyment in poetry, declamation, dramatization, etc.
6. To increase pupils' vocabulary.
7. To sharpen a fundamental tool of school and life, oral expression.

How to train pupils in Oral English?

1. Insist upon complete statements, except in cases of quick drill.
2. Topical recitations.
3. Socialized recitations.
4. Participation in school activities.
 - (a.) Class meetings.
 - (b.) Debates, etc.
 - (c.) Talks.
 - (d.) Dramatization.
5. Preparation and delivery of material suitable to age of pupils.
6. Make pupils realize that the class is the audience for all class work as well as the teacher.

MATHEMATICS

The Committee on Mathematics featured our certificates of Proficiency in Fundamental Processes; Problems without figuring with statement of processes only; Analysis of problems in mensuration by use of squared paper; and our new plan of Junior High mathematics. There were pictures of classes doing field work.

It was shown that 96 per cent of our sixth grade pupils had become proficient in accurate and rapid figuring in the fundamental processes of whole numbers and fractions. The year before only 71 per cent received the certificate.

The general aims as stated by the committee are:

1. That the fundamental processes shall be taught and drilled upon separately:

- (a.) By a definite checking up of training in fundamental processes as tools in figuring by the Courtis tests, and the Certificate of Proficiency.

- (b.) By a definite and separate training in reading, analysis, and interpretation of problems as distinct from figuring and drill.

2. That every student should secure an understanding of the simple mathematical principles and relations that are most common to everyday experiences, irrespective of whether the custom has been to treat these topics under the head of arithmetic, algebra, trigonometry, or geometry.

3. That much instruction throughout all grades be based on the concrete, making all possible use of the devices suggested. The concrete method will enable many pupils to grasp mathematical principles which they could grasp in no other way. These methods will also vitalize the work for the brighter pupils.

4. That opportunity should be given in the last years of the school system for special training in mathematics for those going to higher institutions.

PENMANSHIP

The Penmanship Committee illustrated their report by pictures of children in correct position, by specimens of writing, and by graphs that showed the results accomplished by all pupils in town. Their method of issuing certificates of proficiency and of supervising the penmanship work was explained. From the results obtained it was demonstrated that about half of the second grade pupils can learn to write well, that 83 per cent of the third grade pupils can write very legibly and with good movement; but that it is a task accompanied with many disappointments for pupils in grades 4 to 8 to habituate themselves to using arm movement in all written work.

INTELLIGENCE TESTING — AGE OF ADMISSION TO FIRST GRADE

The exhibit and report of the Committee on Intelligence Testing stressed the help that may be derived from the knowledge of results of intelligence testing.

The committee consists of the kindergarten and two first grade teachers. Its purpose is to study the subject and learn what advantages can be gained by using the intelligence tests in our schools, particularly in the lower grades. The committee have been reading and studying this subject using their school-rooms as a laboratory for the work. The following is a brief outline of the work which has been accomplished.

I. Aims.

- (A.) To understand the child better.
- (B.) To place the child where best suited to make school progress.
- (C.) To adjust the school work to the abilities of the child.
- (D.) To determine which is better as a school policy mental or chronological age for entrance to first grade.

II. Explanation or Nature of Work.

- (A.) Preparation: Books Studied:
 - Terman's Measure of Intelligence.
 - Holmes' Backward Children.
 - Woodrow's Brightness and Dullness in Children.
 - Anderson's Education of Defectives in Public Schools.
 - Hollingworth's Psychology of Subnormal Children.
 - Terman's The Intelligence of School Children.
- (B.) Material:
 - Terman Test — individual.
 - Detroit Group Test — first grade.
 - Detroit Kindergarten Test.

(C.) Procedure:

1. Vote of School Committee:
In districts with kindergartens, voted to require mental age of at least 5 years-10 months of children under 6 years-6 months chronological age before entering first grade.
2. Get mental age of child—Used for classification.
3. Get intelligence quotient—Used to understand the child.
140 or over — Genius or near genius.
120 — 140 — Very superior.
110 — 120 — Superior.
90 — 110 — Normal or average.
80 — 90 — Dullness.
70 — 80 — Borderline.
Below 70 — Definite feeble-mindedness.

III. Results:

The tests show that nearly all children with a mental age of 5 years-10 months or over are able to do the required amount of work in the first grade easily, unless hampered by absence or physical causes.

- (A.) Investigations at the end of thirty weeks of work done by a class of first grade pupils in reading, writing and arithmetic showed the following results:

The accomplishment of each pupil in reading was rated 1, 2, or 3, 1 signifying the best accomplishment. The same method was pursued in writing and arithmetic.

The judging of the grade of work was not limited to one individual. The pupils were then classified and placed in three groups, the average mental age of each group being practically the same for the pupils had been admitted to first grade on a mental age basis thirty weeks before.

1. The first group were bright pupils with a mental age higher than the chronological age, with an I. Q. above 110.
 2. The second group were normal children with an I. Q. ranging from 90-110.
 3. The third group were sub-normal children with a mental age below the chronological age, and an I. Q. ranging from 90-70.
- (B.) The table below gives ratings of the three groups mentioned above in each of the three subjects, and the median for each subject.

A study of the table discloses the fact that normal children did a little better than either of the other groups.

The accomplishment of the bright group and of the sub-normal group averaged almost the same.

Other outstanding facts are these:

1. The normal group reads the best.
2. The sub-normal or over-age pupils write the best.
3. The sub-normal, or oldest pupils, are the poorest in reading.
4. The bright pupils, because of their position in second place in reading, and a very small deviation from the median in writing and arithmetic, justify their entrance into the first grade at a low chronological age.

	GROUP I Mental Age higher than Chron. Age		GROUP II Normal Age		GROUP III Mental Age lower than Chron. Age		Median Accom.
	Average Accom.	Above or Below Median	Average Accom.	Above or Below Median	Average Accom.	Above or Below Median
Reading	2.27	+.11	2	+.38	2.86	-.48	2.38
Writing	2.18	-.18	2.09	-.09	1.71	+.29	2.
Arithmetic	1.82	-.09	1.67	+.06	1.71	+.02	1.72
Relative Group standing in three subjects		-.16		+.35		-.19

+ Above median.

- Below median.

IV. The scientific classification of school children is desirable, because:

(A.) It is a benefit to the children:

1. The individual need is met.
2. Increases the interest of the child, thus making the work more of a pleasure, less of a drudgery.

(B.) It is a benefit to teachers:

1. Labor is lessened.
2. Time is saved.
3. More work accomplished.

(C.) It is a benefit to the community, for it is an economical policy to avoid from 25 to 50 per cent of repeaters each year in the first grade.

(D.) Recommendations:

1. That all teachers become familiar with this subject as an aid in understanding children.
2. That in districts without kindergartens the minimum age for entrance be six years, unless admitted at an earlier age by the superintendent on the basis of a mental age of 5 years 10 months.

The exhibit was commented upon favorably many times, and showed our teachers are thinking intelligently about their work.

The committees are still at work, helping and being helped.

The exhibit is still intact and may be seen by any interested person or group of persons.

In conclusion I wish to acknowledge the assistance which has been given me in preparing this report by the principals, teachers, and committees of the teachers. The educational achievements accomplished and reported herein have been made possible only by the unusual effort and coöperation of the members of the entire school department. Except for the few deficiencies noted throughout our report, we feel that the Easton schools are in better condition today than they have been at any time since the beginning of the World War. All of our pupils are on full time, and there is a seat for every child.

I wish also to thank you, the members of the School Committee, for your keen interest in our educational affairs, and especially for your assistance in the care of the school property and in providing for the physical welfare and comfort of the children.

Respectfully submitted,

CARLON E. WHEELER.
